

Restoration Ahead

You are entering a revegetation area. Please stay on the trail to maximize rehabilitation efforts.

Due to utility improvements related to the SLC Public Utilities Fort Douglas Tank and the Rocky Mountain Power Wildfire Mitigation Project, some of the trails and open space on the University of Utah and US Forest Service property at this location have been adversely impacted. Significant restoration work has been completed to rehabilitate the trails and revegetate open space. Please stay on designated trails and the newly paved Fort Douglas Tank Road when traveling through revegetation zones. SLC Public Lands is supporting the efforts of the University and the USFS as a partner in the Foothills Trail System Plan.
