

Earthquake | Resources

When a 5.7 magnitude earthquake shook the Salt Lake City area on Wednesday, March 18, you may have found yourself acutely faced by the reality of earthquake risks in our city. Below you will find a list of resources to help you prepare for an earthquake or other emergencies.

Following the earthquake, Mayor Mendenall signed a proclamation declaring a local emergency. This ensures the City has access to the state and federal funding needed to assist Utahns. Learn more about at www.slc.gov/mayor/earthquake-announcement.

Was your property damaged by the earthquake? Report the damage at www.slcoem.org.

Be Ready Utah

www.beready.utah.gov

f t @BeReadyUtah

Be Ready SLC

www.slc.gov/em

f t @BeReadySLC

Federal Emergency Management Agency

www.ready.gov/earthquakes

f t @ReadyGov

The Great Utah ShakeOut

www.shakeout.org/utah

f t @UtahShakeout

Utah Emergency Management

www.dem.utah.gov/earthquake

f t @UtahEmergency

Utah Geological Survey

www.geology.utah.gov

f t @UtahGeological

Utah Red Cross

www.redcross.org/utah

f t @RedCrossUT

University of Utah Seismograph Stations

www.quake.utah.edu

f t @UUSSQuake

Still need help finding information?

SLC Mayor's Office
801-535-7704
mayor@slcgov.com

SLC Council Office
801-535-7600
council.comments@slcgov.com

