PREDATORY ALERT – COVID-19 LOANS

Please be aware that there are predatory organizations seeking to capitalize on your distress. There are no fees associated with applying for the COVID-19 small business federal relief programs—including Paycheck Protection Program, Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program, SBA Express Bridge Loans, and SBA Debt Relief. If anyone requires a fee to help you apply for the small business relief programs, they are not helping you.

The safest option is to work with an existing bank or credit union contact if you have one. If you do not have loans with a financial institution, you can find a list of participating financial institutions providing Paycheck Protection Program loans at Utah Bankers Association or Utah's Credit Unions.

The Paycheck Protection Program is new and was made available on April 3, 2020. There is a high demand, and lenders are taking longer than anticipated to respond to small business inquiries. Any small business has an opportunity to apply, and you should continue to contact your financial institution (or one of the financial institutions in the above links) until you are able to make an appointment.

If you want to apply for the Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program, please contact the SBA at (801) 524-3209. The SBA is receiving a high volume of calls and requests, which may mean that it takes additional time for someone to answer or get back to you. Please be patient, but also continue to follow up if you do not hear back from anyone.

For free information about resources available to Salt Lake County businesses struggling due to COVID-19, call the Business Relief Hotline at (385) 468-4011, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday-Friday.
